CF Jim Edmonds(notes) (2000-2007) .285/.393/.555, 241 HR, 713 RBIs, 2x All-Star Here's the thing: Jim Edmonds may well have been a Hall of Famer. He longing have an uphill ascend, though as his best years came during the Steroid Era. Though he has never been connected to performance-enhancing drugs no player from the era longing be learned to sprint suspicion completely ?? sadly, it is a logical truth that you cannot guarantee a negative. But Edmonds was an of the best hub fielders among baseball as a long time with fearsome power, college football jersey, terrific plate discipline, and legitimately comely whether occasionally overrated barricade Though he came up with the Angels, for the moment his best years came among St. Louis, as he was the median fielder on the 2004 alliance champions and 2006 earth champions. His 68 Wins Above Replacement according Baseball-Reference) are virtually tied with Duke Snider's 67. five You may never believe he's a Hall of Famer, but as Andy wrote along the Baseball-Reference.com blog, "This is evidently never a lunatic argue" 9. SP Dizzy Dean (1930-1937) 150-83, two.99 ERA, an.20 WHIP, 4x All-Star, NL MVP (1934) Jay Hanna "Dizzy" Dean is a classic case of a terrific peak and a short profession Dean pitched 357 innings less than Sandy Koufax, maybe the highest f nfl sponsors 2011 amous case of a pitcher whose career ended ahead its time But along his peak Ol' Diz actually was something, and writers recognized him as never just an of the best pitchers, merely an of the best players among the league as he won the MVP as a member of the 1934 earth champion Gashouse Gang, and ended as MVP runner-up in 1935 and 1936, after holding out as more money in the offseason either years. With performance favor that, notoriously tight-fisted common manager Branch Rickey probably felt he got his money's amount Dean ruined his arm along changing his pitching motion in an try to come back from a foot injury, and was mainly done ahead his 30th birthday. But he had already cemented his legacy: A large nickname, a large World Series, and a large five-year flee was always he needed to take his place between the all-time legends of the game. 8. Ted Simmons (1968-1980) .298/.366/.459, 172 HR, 929 RBIs, 6x All-Star Ted Simmons is arguably the best catcher never in the Hall of Fame. An anchor of the team within the '70s, his first glass of coffee came as an 18-year-old during the 1968 season, merely he wasn't aboard the playoff roster. Then the Cardinals had the third-longest playoff drought in their history, and wouldn't return to the World Series until two years after he left. Despite a 21-year career and eight All-Star appearances, he fell off the Hall of Fame ballot in his 1st annual of eligibility, and has never additionally inspired much of an online movement as a bid to acquire among via the Veterans' Committee. Geoff Young recently evaluated his Hall of Fame case and concluded that he was about as worthy a candidate as the recently enshrined backstop Gary Carter. Whatever his space surrounded the pantheon, kentucky basketball jersey, Simmons is certainly the best catcher surrounded the history of the franchise.

He was the MVP of the World Champion 1964 Cardinals, the best player aboard a crew that included Hall of Famers Bob Gibson and Lou Brock.

5. Ozzie Smith (1978-1996) .262/.337/.328, 28 HR, 793 RBIs, 580 SB, 148 CS, 15x All-Star The Wizard of Oz is about universally regarded as the best defensive shortstop ever to activity the game. Early in his career he entertained fans by act a backflip aboard his access to his position, until he was discouraged along nervous coaches worried that he might an day mistime his jump and do solemn damage But aboard the field, he was elegance itself. He once said: "To me, being a jazz player is a lot favor being a shortstop." He was never much of a power threat, but he improved his plate discipline as he got older and was always a marvelous base stealer, an important capacity on Whitey Herzog's running-mad Whiteyball Cardinals. His 13 direct Gold Gloves are back only Brooks Robinson's 16. (Greg Maddux behind tied Ozzie according picking up 13 straight Gold Gloves himself.)

4. SP Bob Gibson (1959-1975) 251-174, two.91 ERA, one.19 WHIP, 8x All-Star, 2x NL Cy Young (1968, 1970), NL MVP (1968) He doesn't have an imposing nickname ????"Hoot," after an actor in Westerns ?? or an imposing boundary standing by nearly 6-foot-1 and 189 pounds. But when he toed the rubber, Nets Jerseys, authentic nhl jerseys, especially the higher hill that was surrounded use among 1968, there may have been no an more intimidating. His notable an.12 ERA in 1968, known as "The Year of the Pitcher" mostly deserving to Gibson's eye-popping ERA and Denny McLain's 31 wins, was the lowest ERA posted along a pitcher since 1914, Babe Ruth's apprentice daily A former basketball player who had briefly played with the Harlem Globetrotters, Gibson consciously developed his surly hill demeanor, once explaining: "You've got to have an attitude if you're going to work distant among this game."

3. LF/RF/1B/3B Albert Pujols (2001-2011) .328/.420/.617, 445 HR, an, 329 RBIs, baseball jersey size chart, 9x All-Star, 3x NL MVP (2005, 2008-9) We've been spoiled by King Albert. This year was the "worst" of his profession at present as he posted calling lows in average, RBI, hits, design your own baseball jersey, doubles, walks OBP and slugging, and posted a career high among grounding into double plays. And additionally he still hit.299/.366/.541 with 37 homers, and he's hitting .419 among the postseason with 10 RBIs. He's equitable 31 years age just three points back Musial's batting average and 30 household runs back Musial's homer absolute Musial may always be the greatest Cardinal, impartial as Hank Aaron ambition always be the greatest Brave and Willie Mays the greatest Giant, nba jersey wholesale, no matter who follows ?? but whether his calling continues along its current lesson Pujols could be the greatest hitter surrounded the history of the National League. At this point, there are only four definite things that remain on him: Barry Bonds, sports jersey framing, Babe Ruth, Ted Williams, and the holy firmament.

2. Rogers Hornsby (1915-1926) .359/.427/.568, 193 HR, one, steelers jersey, 072 RBIs, NL MVP (1925) Rajah could flat-out rake. Owner of the second-highest batting average of all duration Hornsby was famous as his refusal to engage with anything that wasn't baseball ?? as Ron Fimrite writes, he wouldn't read books watch films, alternatively even activity cards, for he didn't absence to do anything that would potentially pain his eyes. As he once said: People ask me what I do within winter while there's no baseball. I'll tell you what I do. I gaze out the window and wait as spring. As legendary as he was as hitting bravery he was equally notable as being insufferable, and he was generally hated along his teammates and the players he managed. He wasn't too colossal with the mitt, both But it didn't much matter to the scoreboard.

1. LF/CF/RF/1B Stan Musial (1941-1963) .331/.417/.559, basketball jerseys cheap, 475 HR, 1,951 RBIs, 24x All-Star, 3x NL MVP (1943, baseball jersey designs, 1946, cheap authentic nba jerseys, 1948) A Polish-American from Pennsylvania, create a nba jersey, Stanley Frank Musial ?? also known to his home as Stanis?aw Musia?, the same name as a contemporary Polish bishop who was a leading figure surrounded improving postwar relations between Poland's Jewish community and the Catholic Church ??? Stan the Man is the greatest Cardinal ever, and an of the highest beloved ballplayers of always time with an appropriately impressive nickname. But my favorite nickname was an unspoken an given to him by Bill James, who once referred to Ken Griffey Jr.(notes) as "the second-best left-handed hitting, left-handed throwing outfielder ever born surrounded Donora, Pennsylvania on November 21." As it so happens, Donora is too Stan Musial's hometown, and Nov. 21 is too Stan Musial's birthday.His Hall of Fame profession about didn't happen As his Hall of Fame page notes,before he was an outfielder he was "a dead-armed Class C pitcher" who had nonetheless earned notice as his booming bat Give the Cardinals credit as putting him where he belonged. He's tied with Hank Aaron and Willie Mays with 24 All-Star game appearances (his mathematics were thrust along the MLB practice of holding two All-Star games a annual from 1959-1962), and still holds the all-time disc with six All-Star game homers.Honorable mentions: The Cardinals franchise has been so great that it's an impossible task to whittle the field down to impartial 10 players. Among the others who could have affable landed aboard this list: Joe Medwick,russian hockey jersey, the last NL player to win the Triple Crown; Lou Brock, an electrifying player and Hall of Famer; Red Schoendienst, the longest-tenured Cardinal ever; Johnny Mize, the original Big Cat; and Curt Flood, a brilliant median fielder and arrogant man who fought as labor rights that he never got to enjoy. A mention,barely without much credit have to be made of pitcher Jesse Haines,perhaps the worst player surrounded the Hall of Fame.Related: 2011 Postseason, 2011 World Series - Rangers vs. Cards
